SYNOPSIS

TEDDY BEAR

(Denmark/2012/Color/93 mins.)

Directed by : Mads Mathiesen
 Music by : Sune Martin
 Camera : Laust Trier-Mork
 Starring : Kim Kold, Mamaipron, Sangmanee Hougaard, Elisebeth Steentoft

The 38-year-old bodybuilder Dennis would really like to find true love. He has never had a girlfriend and lives alone with his mother in a suburb of Copenhagen. When his uncle marries a girl from Thailand, Dennis decides to try his own luck on a trip to Pattaya, as it seems that love is easier to find in Thailand. He knows that his mother would never accept another woman in his life, so he lies and tells her that he is going to Germany. Dennis has never been out traveling before and the hectic Pattaya is a huge cultural shock for him. The intrusive Thai girls give big bruises to Dennis' naive picture of what love should be like, and he is about to lose hope when he unexpectedly meets the Thai woman Toi.

Awards : Mathiesen won the directing award in the category "World Cinema - Dramatic" for Teddy Bear at the 2012 Sundance Film Festival. The film was also nominated for the Grand Jury Prize in the same category at the Sundance Festival.

WALLED IN

(US/Canada/France/2009/Color/100 mins.)

Directed by : Gilles Paquet-Brenner
 Music by : David Kristian
 Camera : Karim Hussain
 Starring : Mischa Barton, SanCameron Bright, Deborah Kara Unger

The film premiered at the Glasgow Film Festival on 20 February 2009.

A young woman who recently graduated from engineering school travels to a remote location to supervise the demolition of a mysterious building. She soon discovers the horrifying secrets of the building and its past inhabitants, many of whom were victims of a vicious murderer who entombed his prey alive within its walls. Now she must turn the tables on the killer before she becomes his latest victim.

THE MONKEY KING

(Hong Kong, China/2014/Color/120 mins.)

Directed by : Cheang Pou-soi
 Music by : Christopher Young
 Camera : Arthur Wong, Ardy Lam, Yang Tao, Daniel L. Symmes
 Starring : Donnie Yen, Chow Yun-fat, Aaron Kwok, Joe Chen, Peter Ho, Kelly Chen

The film is based on selected chapters of Wu Cheng'en's classical novel Journey to the West and will tell the story of how the Monkey King rebels against the Jade Emperor of Heaven.

Sun Wukong, (The Monkey King) is a monkey born from a heavenly stone who acquires supernatural powers. After rebelling against heaven and being imprisoned under a mountain for 500 years, he later accompanies the monk Xuanzang on a journey to India. Thus, according to legend, Buddhism is brought to ancient China. This much beloved story, is as much a part of Asian culture as The Iliad and The Odyssey or The Wizard of Oz are to the West. This first installment in a trilogy of live action 3-D movies is actually a prequel to The Journey To The West, the much told story of the Monkey King's adventures on the road to India. The Monkey King: Havoc In The Heavenly Palace (China Version in Mandarin will be released in the U.S. as The Monkey King The Legend Begins in english with additional US Actors and Different plot and story structure. The first movie is the origins story - beginning with the birth of Sun Wukong and ending with his imprisonment for his crimes under the Five-Peaked Mountain....

MANDERLAY

(Denmark, Sweden, Netherlands, France/ 2005/Color/138 mins.)

Directed by : Lars von Trier
 Music by : Joachim Holbek
 Camera : Anthony Dod Mantle
 Starring : Bryce Dallas Howard, Willem Dafoe, Danny Glover, Lauren Bacall, Jean-Marc Barr, Udo Kier

A story of slavery, set in the southern U.S. in the 1930s.

After gangster Mulligan's cars colony, fleeing northern justice, finds a hiding place in Alabama, spoiled, naive daughter Grace refuses to travel on after seeing the Manderlay cotton plantation being run under slavery rules, called Mam's law, inclusive flogging. She keeps half of dad's goons as guard to force the dying matriarch-owner's heirs, which she shamelessly dispossesses and reduces to 'staff', to taste destitution under absurd, gun-imposed contracts. The 'slaves' are made free partners, supposed to vote for progress after lessons from Grace. But almost all her democracy-pupils prove fickle, dumb and selfish, except old Willem. Her and their ignorance in Southern planting and crafty Dixie ways means more problems are created then solved. By the time dad returns to pick her up or abandon her for good, she's the one who has learned and changed the most.

COSMOPOLIS

(Canada, France, Portugal, Italy/ 2012/Color/110 mins.)

Directed by : David Cronenberg
 Music by : Howard Shore, Metric
 Camera by : Peter Suschitzky
 Starring : Robert Pattinson, Juliette Binoche, Sarah Gadon

Riding across Manhattan in a stretch limo in order to get a haircut, a 28-year-old billionaire asset manager's day devolves into an odyssey with a cast of characters that start to tear his world apart.

On the spur of the moment, twenty-eight year old Manhattan self-made multi-billionaire Eric Packer decides he wants to get a haircut from his regular and longtime barber across town, a difficult journey today if only because of the traffic gridlock from three high profile but vastly different events taking place in the borough, including a wandering anarchist protest, they who largely use dead rats as their symbol of protest. Through his trek, Eric, most taking place in his stretch limousine, meets with several business associates - some with as esoteric job titles as Head of Theory - and personal acquaintances, including his several week bride, Elise, a wealthy woman in her own right with who he still has a somewhat distant relationship if only because they don't really know each other. The start of Eric's day ends much differently than the end as his personal fortune largely hinges on external forces in relation to a speculative currency transaction, and as he learns that someone is...
