Message from the EU Ambassador

Europe and India are bound by a shared passion for cinema and storytelling, and the European Union Film Festival (EUFF) is a vibrant celebration of this unity. Over the years, the festival has become a key event in the Indian cultural calendar. Entering its 29th edition, the festival is a unique melting pot for cinephiles and culture enthusiasts, providing a platform to create shared experiences.

I invite you to EUFF2024; feel free to walk into any screening, sit in the cinema dark room and embark on a luminous cultural journey of entertainment and reflection with a European touch.

Organised in Team Europe spirit by the EU Delegation to India in collaboration with EU member countries, the festival celebrates the richness and diversity of European cinema. With a line-up of 26 contemporary films from EU countries and Ukraine, the festival presents a bouquet of specially curated films that have earned recognition at prestigious international film festivals including Cannes, Academy Awards, Venice Film Festival, Locarno Film Festival, IFFI, Tallinn Black Nights Film Festival, Toronto International Film Festival among others.

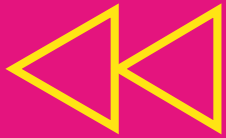

This year's curation shines a light on themes that resonate deeply with our contemporary lives, where intricate human relationships take centerstage, shedding a light on the power of sisterhood, journeys of self-discovery, and the exploration of modern-day challenges. Spanning a variety of genres, this rich cinematic experience will travel beyond Delhi to Kolkata and Hyderabad this year, offering a vibrant tapestry of European cinema to the Indian audiences.

Over the years, Indo-European collaborations have produced some of the most acclaimed films on the global stage. This year stands out with several Indo-European co-productions having earned international recognition, including All We Imagine As Light, the Grand Prix winner at Festival de Cannes, along with other remarkable titles like Santosh and Girls Will Be Girls. This has not only helped grow the cooperation between the two creative industries but has also brought India and Europe closer through films in a globalising world.

Let us celebrate this incredible year and the power of cinema. After all, this is your #WindowtoEurope, with a cinematic lens!

Hervé Delphin
Ambassador of the European Union to India

Curator's Note

Cinema is a multidimensional art that transcends the boundaries of space and time, offering the audience—wherever they are—a thought, an emotion, an intrinsically human restlessness or hope. It listens to the echoes of history and keeps memories alive, playing a multifaceted role in shaping contemporary cultural narratives and global perceptions.

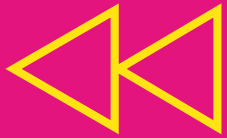

The European Union Film Festival strives to do just that—curate films that serve as a threshold through space and time. Through the extraordinary communicative power of the seventh art, the festival becomes a platform for listening, sharing, and fostering intercultural dialogue beyond physical and virtual borders. It celebrates the meeting of two worlds—the immense beauty and multifaceted complexity of Europe and India. The 2024 edition, now in its 29th year, promises a captivating journey through the rich diversity of European cinema. It highlights the originality of storytelling, the variety of genres and formats, and the fresh perspectives of emerging and independent filmmakers, alongside the artistic finesse of seasoned directors.

Our curation this year explores the turmoil of the human soul and the often unfathomable complexity of daily life, from both individual and collective perspectives. It seeks vital pathways toward peace, brotherhood, and solidarity in an increasingly uncertain future that one can only navigate by standing together. The 29th edition of EUFF India promises to take audiences on a cinematic journey, surprising them with new experiences by presenting a rich array of genres and languages. From drama to comedy, historical films to sci-fi, philosophical works to thrillers, and from shorts to feature films, the festival showcases the limitless blending of these forms. It delves into the unexpected and breathtaking landscapes of the imagination, revealing the ghosts of the present, while celebrating the resilience of the deepest core of humankind and its relentless pursuit of love and collective fulfilment.”

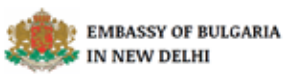

Come embark on this unique journey at EUFF 2024; let these cinematic experiences help you uncover various facets of life and provide perspectives that linger long after the credits roll.

Stairway To Heaven

by Mart Kivastik

ESTONIA | 107' | 2023 | DRAMA / COMEDY | UA

With his friend's dying breath, Uu is entrusted with a secret—a way to travel back in time. As an engineer, Uu doesn't believe in miracles, but to his surprise, the method works. In the past, everything is idyllic: an endless summer filled with long hair, girls, and the taste of Jenkki chewing gum. In contrast, his present reality is steeped in autumn—his friends are bitter, the girls are married, and his father is severely ill. Now, Uu must make a life-altering decision: will he live in the nostalgic summer of the past or face the harsh autumn of the present?

Employee Of The Month

by Véronique Jadin

BELGIUM | 78' | 2022 | COMEDY | UA 13+

What does employer loyalty really mean? And what does a lifetime of service actually get you? That's exactly what Inès wants to find out. Inès (45) may behave like a model employee at her job selling cleaning products, but she isn't recognized or paid properly. Under the blasé gaze of Mélody, the young trainee, she decides to ask Patrick, her boss, for her first raise. But the situation gets out of hand, Mélody tries to intercede and Patrick ends up with a broken skull. The accident looks like a crime. What can be done? What Inès knows how to do best: clean up.

Embryo Larva Butterfly

by Kyros Papavassiliou

CYPRUS | 91' | 2023 | DRAMA | A

In a world where time shifts arbitrarily, a couple's relationship faces constant challenges as their memories of the past, present, and future endlessly change. Just beyond their world lies another, where time flows in a straight line. Is it possible to cross from this unpredictable realm into the world of linear time? This imaginative film explores the paradoxes of time and the complexities of human relationships.

Restore Point

In 2041, Central Europe stands on the edge of crisis as deep social and economic inequality threaten the fabric of society. A scientific breakthrough now enables humanity to revive victims of violent crimes by backing up their brains every two days. This innovative technology presents a unique opportunity for a driven young detective to delve into the murder of a couple as a restoration team works to bring one of the victims back to life.

Sons

by Gustav Möller

DENMARK | 100' | 2024 | DRAMA/THRILLER | A

The question arises: what takes precedence—the profound personal grief or the duty to one's job? The idealistic prison guard Eva (Sidse Babett Knudsen) confronts the most challenging dilemma of her life when a young man connected to her past is transferred to the prison where she works. Without disclosing her secret, she requests a transfer to his block, thus unfolding a tense psychological thriller where Eva's commitment to justice threatens to unravel her morality and jeopardize her future.

An Irish Goodbye

by Tom Berkeley & Ross White

IRELAND | 23' | 2023 | DRAMA/COMEDY | UA

On a farm in rural Northern Ireland, estranged brothers Turlough and Lorcan are compelled to reunite after the unexpected death of their mother. However, when they stumble upon an unfulfilled bucket list left behind by her, their fraught reunion takes an unexpected turn. As they set out to complete the list, the journey forces them to confront their past, and re-investigate their fractured relationship.

What A Feeling

by Kat Rohrer

AUSTRIA | 110' | 2024 | ROMANTIC COMEDY | A

Marie Theres, 52, seems to have it all: a 20-year marriage to her husband Alexander, a teenage daughter, Anna, and a successful career as a doctor. But in a single moment, everything unravels. Her husband walks out, her daughter rebels, she is suspended from the hospital after a near-fatal mistake, and even her friends turn their backs on her. Enter Fa, a bold, free-spirited Iranian woman who runs a carpentry business with her siblings while caring for their elderly mother. Though the two women are complete opposites, they are irresistibly drawn to each other. Both must confront and break free from the self-imposed limitations of their lives if they truly want to find happiness.

La Chimera

by Alice Rohrwacher

ITALY | 130' | 2023 | DRAMA/COMEDY | A

Everyone has their own Chimera, something they try to achieve but never manage to find. For the band of tombaroli, thieves of ancient grave goods and archaeological wonders, the Chimera means redemption from work and the dream of easy wealth. For Arthur, the Chimera looks like the woman he lost, Beniamina (Ylfe Yara Vianello). To find her, Arthur challenges the invisible, searches everywhere, and goes inside the earth—in search of the door to the afterlife of which myths speak. In an adventurous journey between the living and the dead, between forests and cities, between celebrations and solitudes, the intertwined destinies of these characters unfold, all in search of the Chimera.
